Studies In Literature. Frederick M. Tisdel, Ph.D. Associate Professor English, University of Missouri. New York: The Macmillan Company. 9x1 cents net Mr. Tisdel s Studies in Literature is rather a new departure in text-books on English literature. The author intends it as a guide to the study of classics required in secondary schools. It is n t only logical in arrangement, but what is better, historically logical. Part I deals with the classics in the following groups: The Epic, The Romance and the Novel, The Drama, The Essay, The Public Address, Narrative and Lyric Poetry. Besides a short discussion of each literary form is the analysis of a representative classic. In Part II is a brief survey of English literature divided into seven periods: Old English, Middle English, The Renaissance, The Puritan Age, Classicism, Romanticism, The Victorian Age. There seems to be no reason why the volume should not be most popular for secondary school use. The Book Of Job. A Metrical Translation, with an Introductory Essay and Explanatory Notes. By Homer B. Sprague. Boston: Sherman, French and Company. $1.25 net; by mail, $1.35 Dr. Sprague s aim in presenting this attractive edition of the Book of Job is to popularize this great masterpiece, making it a joy and an inspiration to the average man and woman. He has considered it quite important to show both to eye and ear that here is a true poem. To this end he...
