In its arrangement it is strictly inductive and practical. To those who may have objections to the use of sacred words in the lessons for practice, it is proper to remark, that, while an inconsiderate use of sacred words is at all times to be avoided, they are adopted in the practical lessons of the present work after due deliberation; and, it is thought, for good reasons. The manual is designed primarily for Sunday-schools. The lessons are so constructed that children who have learned to sing by rote, may, by an ordinary singer, be taught in one hour to sing a hymn scientifically. Now, in learning the music, the poetry need not, and should not be sung, but the sounds should be uttered with the names of the notes, fa,...
